Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-21, drawn to a first method for generating a Drosophila clipped FRT chromosome, classified in class 435, subclass 6.
- II. Claims 22-28, drawn to a second method for generating a Drosophila clipped FRT chromosome, classified in class 435, subclass 6.
- III. Claims 29-30, drawn to a recombined chromosome having particular characteristics classified in class 536 subclass 23.1.
- IV. Claims 31-34, drawn to a second recombined chromosome having differing features, classified in class 536, subclass 23.1.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are independent and distinct, each from the other, as they are differing methods having differing method steps that result in differing products. As such, they would require search in differing areas, which would pose an undue search burden upon the examiner if not restricted.

Inventions I and III are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the Chromosome can be made by direct cloning.

Inventions I and IV are independent and distinct, as the product of Invention IV is not made or used by the process of Invention I. As such, it would pose an undue burden upon the examiner to search both groups.

Inventions II and III are independent and distinct, as the product of Invention IV is not made or used by the process of Invention I. As such, it would pose an undue burden upon the examiner to search both groups.

Inventions II and IV are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the Chromosome can be made by direct cloning.

Inventions III and IV are separate and distinct, as they are differing physical products, having differing physical structures, chemical structures, and biological activities. As such, it would pose an undue burden upon the examiner to examine the two groups.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
